POLITICAL VIEW: Students at Castle Manor Academy saw democracy in action

Parliament proves popular

STUDENTS at Castle Manor Academy in Haverhill enjoyed seeing democracy in action on a recent trip to London.

Pupils got to watch a live debate in the House of Commons and meet West Suffolk MP Matthew Hancock who took part in a question and answer session.

They also carried out a workshop on the election process and held their own 'election', electing Jasmine Bray, chair of the student parliament, Prime Minister.

Jail for 'show off' driver

@TaraCoxCN

A YOUNG driver who caused a devastating crash while showing off how fast he could go on a narrow country lane has been jailed.

Tom Johnson, of Lophams Close, Haverhill, drove at "no less than 61mph" on Great Drove at Upware, near Ely, Cambridge Crown Court was told.

The crash left his passenger paralysed from the chest down.

Johnson, 21, also filmed the incident intending to show off to friends later, but the footage was not shown to the court.

Johnson was sentenced to 18 months in jail last Friday after previously pleading guilty to causing serious injury by dangerous driving.

He was also disqualified from driving for three years, and ordered to take an extended retest.

Tim Brown, prosecuting, said the crash happened on April 23 last year on the road, which has a speed limit of 60mph.

Despite this, others who used the road said they would drive at 20mph, and police heading to the scene of the crash had to brake because the road was so bumpy.

The incident ended in Johnson losing control of his Toyota Yaris and careering into a tree.

His friend was left with a broken neck and a severe spinal injury, meaning he is now paralysed from the chest down.

The victim, who has four children, also needed 72 stitches in his head.

Firefighters took more than an hour to cut him free from the car.

Peter Lownds, mitigating, said: "There is obvious remorse here and the defendant has lost a close friendship. Understandably, the victim wants nothing to do with him."

"This was one particular day of serious misjudgment.

"There were no drink or drugs involved."

Sentencing Johnson, Recorder Timothy Green said: "I accept that since the crash you constantly wish the roles were reversed for you and your friend."

"You did all this to show off how fast you could drive. You knew it was a risk, you went down that lane because you knew how bumpy it was."

"There are road signs warning drivers not to go too fast."

"Your friend has been left paralysed probably for the rest of his life."

"I accept you feel huge remorse which will stay with you for the rest of your life."

"The offence guidelines do not deal with the harm done in this case; it's hard to imagine many cases where the harm could be much greater."

LITERATURE

Author's book based on town

RACHAEL MCMENEMY

@rach_mcs94CN

A NEW book based on Haverhill has been released by author Annie Frances Swann.

Her novel Azure of the Realm - Othersiders 1 recalls the Haverhill she remembers from her childhood and incorporates her interest in paganism and magic.

She said: "Haverhill will always be a place I hold dear to my heart as it is where I spent most of my formative years, until my father passed away in 1977.

"Many of the childhood memories my character, Ash Nightingale, has shared in her story are in fact closely linked to my own life.

"I have always been drawn to nature and as a small child I believed in fairy folk. I therefore wanted to write a story that had a personal connection to my happy childhood memories, but which also offered an air of intrigue to incorporate more adult viewpoints.

"I have avoided using any real place names, so as to make the story open to more people's interpretation of the location, but it is written in a way that people from Haverhill could hopefully recognise various locations by their descriptions."

The novel, Annie's first, took five years to complete and tells the story of magical prison officer Ash Nightingale, the only person with enough power to stop a battle between the otherside and a parallel land called The Realm.

Annie, who now lives in Norfolk, is already working on a sequel, also based on Haverhill.

She said: "As yet I am unsure how long it will take to complete. This has been a very challenging and very enjoyable experience. It has been an exciting learning experience all round and I would like to thank my wonderful family and friends for their advice and support with all of this."

AWARDS

Optician on national awards shortlist

ONE of Haverhill's opticians has been shortlisted for UK Optometrist of the Year 2017.

Joanna Williams, of Wardale William's opticians in Camps Road, was nominated for her willingness to go above and beyond just routine eye examinations.

The optometrist has visited schools to talk to children about eye tests and do assessments, she also set up a dry eye clinic and introduced a cutting-edge 3D retinal scanner to the Sudbury branch of Wardale William's.

Joanna said: "I am absolutely delighted to have been shortlisted for this award. Win or lose, the process of working towards the award was an amazing and rewarding process and has made me really think about what I do on a daily basis."

There are five other optometrists on the final shortlist and the winner will be announced at a ceremony in Birmingham on Saturday, April 1.

MY FERAL HEART: A still from the film which tells the story of a young man with Down's Syndrome. Right, the arts centre

Mum's plea leads to film being screened

THE arts centre in Haverhill will be showing the film My Feral Heart to mark World Down's Syndrome Day, after an appeal by a mother whose daughter has the condition.

The film, which will be screened on March 19, tells the story of a young man with Down's Syndrome who defies expectation about his disability.

The screening follows a plea by Haverhill mum-of-three Ruth Bayne who contacted the arts centre.

She said: "Steve Brandon is a talented young actor, who happens to have Down's Syndrome. It is wonderful to see his talent recognised, and we hope his acting ability will help people see that life with an extra chromosome does not mean that life is limited or less."

"Our daughter with Down's Syndrome is just as lovely, warm, funny, naughty and grumpy as any other child of nine, and our family is enriched because of her, not in spite of her.

RACHAEL MCMENEMY
@rach_mc94CN

"As Pete says to Luke in the film, 'you and I are not so very different' – which sums up the whole idea of My Feral Heart and what we as parents would love viewers to feel after watching it."

"The Down's Syndrome community is excited that such talent is being recognised; that people with Down's are seen as more like us than different."

Nick Keeble, programmer at Haverhill Arts Centre, said: "At the arts centre we try where we can to be reactive to requests from the community, particularly when it comes to films."

"We try to achieve a balanced programme and will always consider suggestions for limited release films that may have a local interest. My Feral Heart has been successful in many cinemas like ours and is a quality piece of filmmaking that has received nominations and awards from numerous festivals. We are delighted to take the opportunity to screen My Feral Heart in advance of World Down's Syndrome Day."

In the film Steve Brandon stars as fiercely independent Luke who, after a lifetime of caring for his mother, suddenly finds himself thrown into a daunting new environment.

Director Jane Gull said of her feature debut that it is primarily a character study of a person. "We don't even mention Down's in the whole film. I just went with it as I would with any story or any character with him as an individual human being."

Steve Brandon has received multiple awards and praise for his performance as Luke. BBC film critic Mark Kermode called his portrayal of Luke 'absolutely terrific'.

BUSINESS

Networking for mothers in business

A NEW social enterprise group focusing on busy mums is due to open in Haverhill.

Bizmums aims to connect and inspire mothers and other women in business through an online network and monthly meetings.

Michelle Childs set up the network in 2012 with the focus on bringing women in business together who might feel isolated and unsupported working at home.

The new group will be launched on Wednesday, March 22, at the New Croft in Haverhill and then meet every fourth Wednesday of the month after that.

The meetings are designed to be child friendly to maximise flexibility for busy mums.

At the first meeting there will be a 'mindset mastery' class with Linda Barbour who runs her own business called Calm for Change.

Bizmums first came to Suffolk last year when Emma Joy-Staines had to balance work with childcare while her amputee husband underwent a major operation.

HOUSING

ON THE UP: Haverhill is becoming a more desirable location, according to estate agent Jamie Warner

Have a say at cambridge-news.co.uk/all-about/haverhill

Town making a comeback

FIFTY years ago Londoners were encouraged to move out of the hustle and bustle to towns on the outskirts of the capital.

Haverhill on the Suffolk/Cambridgeshire border was one of those towns but after the closure of its railway it became a less popular option.

According to some estate agents, the town is having a resurgence in popularity with Cambridge's commuters who can now afford far more for their buck than in the big city.

In 2012 Jonathan Dimbleby said in a Radio 4 Q&A that Haverhill was cursed with "unemployment and

RACHAEL MCMENEMY

@rach_mc94CN

poverty."

But according to Jamie Warner an estate agent with Cheffins, who has worked in the profession for more than 20 years, that couldn't be further from the truth. He says that the town isn't rundown and many of the new buyers are Cambridge commuters.

He said people are surprised by what they find. "People still think there must be something wrong with the area. They don't know why it's so cheap. 'I didn't die, my car wasn't broken into and my tyres weren't slashed', they kind of want to say that without saying it.

"The Haverhill master plan is key to it in terms of the town centre. The arts centre is really good and gives people something to do."

According to Mr Warren it's the town's community feel which has drawn people back in despite the absence of public transport links like the railway.

The estate agent said he has also seen a growing number of couples moving to Haverhill after years in London because of the better standard of living they can achieve, and the opportunity to settle down.

Mr Warner says that for the price of a small property in London a family could afford a four bedroom detached house with a double garage and en suite for the same amount as a two up, two down residence in London.

A three bedroom house on one of Haverhill's new developments on average costs £275,000, and £325,000 for a four bedroom home.

In Cambridge the same type of house could cost between £500,000 to £800,000 according to properties currently available on the Rightmove website.

Mr Warner highlighted a growth in the number of workers from Addenbrooke's buying homes in Haverhill and commuting over the last 10 years. He said that some of the outlying villages like Little Wratting and Balsham were proving popular with surgeons and other hospital staff.

He believes that the rise of Haverhill in particular is all about family connections. People who had family who moved during the 60s from London are re-exploring that avenue and sharing it with friends. "It's a definite ripple effect," said Mr Warner.

LEGACY CASH: Haverhill Rugby Club will have some of the best facilities in the area

Rugby club to benefit from £65,000 grant

HAVERHILL Rugby Club is getting a £65,000 cash boost after being chosen as a legacy centre by the Rugby Football Union (RFU).

Part of a legacy programme created for the England 2015 Rugby World Cup, the club will use the grant on new pitch drainage, releveling and seeding and to strengthen links with the RFU and the local community.

The club's vice chairman, David Halsey, said: "We are delighted that our project has won approval following its original identification by Eastern Counties RFU."

"We will now have some of the best facilities in the area that local people from Haverhill and the surrounding villages can use during the week."

"England 2015 inspired a new wave of people of all ages to become involved in rugby and this RFU investment will help our club to be even better equipped to welcome the newcomers."

Haverhill Rugby Club is one of 148 clubs to receive a share of £9 million of lottery funding from the Inspired Facilities Fund.

Sport England property director, Charles Johnston, said: "It's great to see Haverhill Rugby Club join the long list of successful clubs to benefit from this fund."

"The Inspired Facilities Fund has had a huge impact on grass roots sport across the country."

"Since 2011, we've invested £102 million in more than 1,920 projects to improve and refurbish sports clubs and transform non-sporting venues into vibrant community sports clubs."

The club hopes that the improvements will open up new opportunities for people wanting to play the game, especially for those aged between 14-24.

RFU area facilities manager Peter Shaw said: "This investment will also support the club's financial sustainability and will create a lasting rugby union legacy for rugby in the community."

"The pitch drainage project will help the club raise its profile and encourage more players, volunteers and spectators to share the special values that distinguish the sport."

Town councillor Betty McClatchy said: "This investment by the RFU is excellent news."

"The Haverhill Rugby Club has had an enthusiastic group of hard-working volunteers and this funding will enable them to do even more for young people in the community in the future."

CRIME

Burglaries more than halved in January

THE latest crime figures for Haverhill show a general fall during January.

The number of burglaries in the Haverhill area dropped from 10 in December to just three in January.

Two of the burglaries were in the Haverhill East ward where intruders gained entry to a home in one instance, only taking the door key.

Another raid happened in Clare where intruders gained access to a house and searched it, but did not appear to take anything.

The three incidents are not thought to be linked. Anti-social behaviour fell from 39 incidents in December to 36 in January and violence with injury went down from 30 to 29.

But cases of serious sexual offences rose to five from two in December and there were two robberies in January compared to none in December.

The total number of recorded investigations fell from 290 in December to 253 in January.

Pictures from the past

THIS week we're looking back at the Haverhill market of 1976.

Based in the town centre, the market has been a staple of Haverhill for decades.

Clockwise from top: many hands make light work to bring home the shopping; a market trader making a deal; three men watch the day go by and examine the goods; two young girls make difficult jewellery decisions; passing time at the shoe stall and a couple make a decision about material on market day.

BUSINESS

Budget U-turn is welcomed

SUFFOLK and Haverhill Chambers of Commerce have welcomed the Government's U-turn on changes to National Insurance announced in last week's budget.

Chancellor Phillip Hammond had announced that National Insurance contributions for self-employed people would rise year-on-year from 9 per cent in 2017 to 11 per cent in 2019.

The Government has now scrapped the move following outcry that it went against a manifesto promise.

John Mayhew, board director of Suffolk Chamber in Haverhill & District, said: "In response to the Government's change of heart regarding the NI contribution rise, we are pleased that the Chancellor has listened to the voice of business, both through Suffolk Chamber in Haverhill and District and the chamber of commerce network the length and breadth of the UK. We will now use this time to challenge the Chancellor to reflect and look at business and employment taxation in the round, to ensure that our tax system is competitive and equitable."

However, other budget plans have proved more controversial.

Robert Mason, of Sturmer Nurseries, said the changes to the business rates would be damaging after the rateable value of his business rose from £25,500 in 2014 to £32,250 this year, a rise of 26 per cent.

Mr Mason said: "I fail to see how anyone can justify a rate rise of this magnitude. If the people of Haverhill saw their Council Tax rise by this much in a single year, it would be political dynamite."

"Businesses such as mine are a soft target and it's simply not fair."

Mr Mayhew said: "In terms of business rates, the £300m made available to soften rises is welcome to local businesses in and around Haverhill, but we need our local councils to be responsive and at the top of their game in using their discretion, otherwise the local impact will be minimal.

"Equally, it was good to hear the Chancellor acknowledging that there is scope to reform the revaluation system. The lack of a timetable and any detail is, however, frustrating as we need answers and direction now."

The chamber of commerce, which is working on improving the A1307 also welcomed a move to tackle urban road congestion with a fund of £690m. Mr Mayhew said it sounded "useful" despite current uncertainties about allocation of the new fund.

TWO fundraisers from Haverhill are running the London Marathon as part of the East of England Air Ambulance team.

Martin Smith, a student paramedic, said: "I'm fundraising because I'm part of the team. I work day in and day out with these amazing crews, it's the right thing to do."

Karen Martin is running to support the air ambulance after hearing from her paramedic husband Andrew about the work they do.

She said: "It's an important service for East Anglia and it's vital that the service remains."

To support the team you can donate to Karen or Martin's page on JustGiving.

Pupils given a taste of Bollywood

BOLLYWOOD came to Westfield Primary Academy in Haverhill on Tuesday.

Pupils of all ages enjoyed dance classes during a day-long workshop, as part of the school's enriched sports programme.

Assistant head

Charlotte Acheson said:

"It was great to give a cultural perspective on PE – something which is quite unusual."

"Bollywood dancing is all inclusive and having the workshop linked in with some of our work in the classroom, the pupils readily got involved and enjoyed it.

"There was an enormous amount of fun and even the teachers got involved with a grand finale."

Following the success another session is planned for the end of March.

STEPPING UP: Students try something new for PE with Bollywood dancing.

COMMUNITY

Cash for extra youth sessions

A PROJECT to improve the lives of young people has been given £2,000 for extra sessions after double the expected number of youngsters signed up.

The Junior Singpost course, run by One Haverhill targets young, anxious and vulnerable 14-18 year olds and aims to improve their chances of developing into 'confident, emotionally balanced young people'.

Initial funding only allowed for 15 youngsters to take part from both Castle Manor and Samuel Ward Academy but between the two schools double that signed up.

To cope with demand Haverhill Town Council approved a request for £2,000 of extra funding at a meeting of the leisure and community committee on March 7, for another 12-week course to run.

Youth Skills manager Karen Chapple said: "The project is going well. I am pleased we are able to offer this project and meet the needs of our young people and encourage their emotional well being.

RACHAEL MCMENEMY
@rach_mc94CN

"We will continue to support as many young people as we can going forward and I am hopeful the programme will make a real difference to the vulnerable young people we are working with."

The current course which runs until May 18, includes taster sessions in golf, chocolate making and flower arranging.

Ms Chapple said that the taster sessions in the new course would not necessarily be the same as the current ones.

She said: "We will try to encourage the young people to share their ideas and look at what outcomes we are looking to achieve with different groups. For instance, if there was a particular issue that the majority of the group shared, we would look at addressing it within the sessions offered."

Counsellors are also present during the programme to provide specialist help and to encourage group chats about emotions.

An adult signpost course has been running for over a year and it is hoped that the two courses can work together to improve each others' lives.

Speaking at the Haverhill leisure and community meeting, councillors were keen to show support for growing the project.

Cllr Andy Williams said it would be 'money well spent'.

FOOD & DRINK

SQUASH AND BLACK
BEAN CHILLI
(SERVES 6-8)

INGREDIENTS

1 small butternut squash (about 1kg), peeled, deseeded and cut into cubes
3tbsp olive oil
2 red onions, chopped
2 garlic cloves, crushed
1 fresh red chilli, deseeded and finely chopped
1tbsp ground cumin
1tbsp ground coriander
3 x 400g tins of chopped tomatoes
150ml white wine
1tbsp light muscovado sugar
2 x 400g tins of black beans, drained and rinsed
Salt and freshly ground black pepper
Sprigs of coriander, to serve

METHOD

1. Preheat the oven to 220°C/200°C fan/Gas 7.
2. Arrange the cubes of squash in a single layer on a baking tray and drizzle over two tablespoons of the olive oil. Season with salt and pepper and toss together.
3. Roast in the oven for 25-35 minutes, or until golden and tender, but still with a little bite.

4. Heat the remaining oil in a large, wide, deep frying pan.
5. Add the onions, garlic and chilli and fry over a high heat for two to three minutes.

6. Sprinkle in the spices and fry for another minute. Add the tomatoes, wine and sugar, season with salt and pepper and bring to the boil, stirring.
7. Cover with a lid, then reduce the heat and simmer for about 10 minutes.

8. Give the mixture a stir, add the beans and the roasted cubes of squash, then cover again with the lid and simmer for a further 10 minutes.

9. Check the seasoning and serve piping hot with the coriander.

VIEWERS were left bereft when Mary Berry announced she wouldn't be following The Great British Bake Off to Channel 4.

But fear not, fans – five months on and the Somerset-born cook, whose final GBBO hurrah came in the form of a National Television Award for Best TV Judge earlier this year, is back with a new BBC2 TV series and accompanying cookbook, Mary Berry Everyday, celebrating items which have formed the cornerstone of her cooking over six decades.

"I was thinking about, as the title suggests, the everyday," explains Mary, 81, whose culinary career started, aged 21, with training at Le Cordon Bleu school, France.

"Everyday can be just with the family, it can mean having friends around, it can be a special occasion."

While the six-part series will follow Mary as she travels to Scotland to enjoy the best of their everyday larder; try her hand at bee keeping; and teach her grand-daughter to milk a goat and make cheese, the tie-in tome will document her own kitchen creations (120, to be exact), alongside top tricks and tips.

With everything from hearty and wholesome, to indulgent and easy crowd-pleasers on the menu, it's a catalogue that's sure to please.

"All the recipes are tried out at home," notes the star, who reveals she welcomes constructive criticism from her tight-knit family (Mary often cooks for her husband, Paul Hunnings, and their children and grandchildren).

"The children might say, 'Oh yuck', or someone may say, 'That takes too long to do', and those don't go in the book," she confides. "But I make sure there aren't too many of those!"

"It's important

I'm not stepping back... I won't be idle

NO BAKE OFF, NO MATTER - MARY BERRY HAS PLENTY TO KEEP BUSY WITH. SHE TELLS GEMMA DUNN WHY SHE'S ON A MISSION TO CELEBRATE THE EVERYDAY

Mary Berry may have bid farewell to The Great British Bake Off following its channel change, but that's not going to stop her cooking up a storm not to have too many ingredients or pieces of equipment," she adds. "I want to inspire people to cook, and I do think a book is a nice thing to have. I'm very lucky that people trust me and that they have a go."

With more than 70 titles under her belt, it's safe to say people do trust Mary – and fans will be pleased to hear she isn't hanging up her apron strings any time soon.

"I'm not stepping back; I am doing different things," Mary insists, resolute in her choice to keep busy.

"Maybe Mel (Giedroyc), Sue (Perkins) and I will get down to something..." she adds cryptically – the Bake Off co-presenters also decided to quit the popular series when the shock channel switch was announced – though it's unlikely to happen overnight.

"I've got a new series on country houses coming up, I'll be doing a bit at Chelsea (Flower Show) I expect, and I'll be doing a new series for 2018," says Mary. "Don't worry, I won't be idle."

Keep busy in the kitchen yourself, with these three recipes from Mary's new book...

■ Mary Berry Everyday (far left) by Mary Berry, photography by Georgia Glynn Smith, is published by BBC Books, priced £26.

■ Mary Berry Everyday continues on BBC2 on Mondays at 8.30pm.

HOW about some new kids on the block? No – not a boy band, but new wines that have arrived just as the weather is beginning to turn and we're thinking of spring round the corner.

If you read this column a couple of weeks ago (thanks for coming back, keep taking the tablets!) I told you that Asda had brought out a sparkling wine to catch the attention of prosecco drinkers.

Asda has blended pinot grigio and a grape called glera (which is used to make prosecco) to create its new wine Progrigio (£5, 11% abv).

What do I think of it? I'm making life difficult for myself with a mini scientific experiment.

I was in Asda a couple of days ago and spotted a cava, also for a fiver. I love cava and think it's massively overlooked by fizz lovers.

RAISE A GLASS

I bought Marques Del Norte Cava Vintage Brut (11.5% abv) and challenged myself to a fizz-off with these two wines.

I've marked on bubble strength, aromas, taste and overall impression. Yes. I'm sitting on the settee doing this right now on my own. Call me sad...

PROGRIGIO

■ Bubbles: Well, it has bubbles – 2 marks.

■ Aromas: Apples, grapes, a hint of flowers but also something plasticky – 2 marks

■ Taste: A burst of mouth-watering acidity; fruit flavours disappear very quickly leaving a tinny aftertaste – 1 mark

■ Overall impression: 2 marks

MARQUES DEL NORTE

■ Bubbles: This cava enjoyed being poured – 3 marks

■ Aromas: Cava is made in the same way as champagne which means there are aromas of fresh apples, citrus, and newly baked buttery bread – 3 marks

■ Taste: Apple, a touch of caramel (like the edges of a crispy apple pie) and the juiciness retains some flavour after you've sipped – 3 marks

■ Overall impression: 3 marks
I'll leave you to do the maths.

ALSO IN MY GLASS...

HERE are two more new kids, a white and a red.

Little Pebble (RRP £8, Sainsbury's, 12% abv) is a sauvignon blanc from Marlborough, New Zealand.

The wine is pale lemon and its cool blue label gives it the vibe of a crystal clear mountain stream. The name itself suggests glossy sun-glinted stones as the water tinkles over them.

Never mind the poetry Jane – what of the wine? It was a winner with my pal as we sipped it together. It is fresh and vividly typical of sauvignon blanc – with aromas of tropical fruit and just a touch of nettle with a sprightly citrus flavour.

Abbotts & Delaunay Merlot 2015 (Majestic, £9.99 or £7.99 in a buy six deal, 13% abv) is a wine in one of two new Languedoc ranges from Abbotts and Delaunay – Wild Fruits and Wild Flowers.

This merlot is from the fruits range and after a long day I tasted it with a simple fried steak with fried mushrooms and onions.

Merlot, my friend in a glass, came along and soothed me with its blackberry and plum aromas and a flirt with spice; it has soft tannins, juicy acidity and plummy roundness. The following night I sipped on its own, but I much preferred it with food.

■ Email jane@onefootinthegrapes.co.uk

INGREDIENTS

For the stew: 2-3tbsp oil, 1kg braising beef (diced), 250g small shallots (peeled and halved), 2 carrots (peeled and thinly sliced), 200g button mushrooms, 50g plain flour, 500ml ale, 150ml beef stock, 2-3tbsp onion marmalade or caramelised onion chutney, 1-2tbsp Worcestershire sauce, A dash of gravy browning (optional), 3 bay leaves, Salt and black pepper, Buttered cabbage, to serve

For the dumplings: 175g self-raising flour (plus extra for dusting), 75g shredded suet (beef or vegetable), 3-4tbsp hot horseradish sauce, 2tbsp chopped parsley, Salt and black pepper

METHOD

1. You will need a 4ltr deep flameproof and ovenproof casserole dish with a lid. Preheat the oven to 160°C/140°C fan/Gas 3.
2. Heat two tablespoons of oil in the dish, add the beef and brown all over. Do this in batches, remove the meat as it is cooked and set aside.
3. Pour in a little more oil if needed and add the shallots, carrots and mushrooms. Fry for four to five minutes.
4. Measure the flour into a bowl and whisk in the ale, slowly to make a smooth paste before adding the rest.

5. Return the meat to the dish, then pour in the flour mixture and stock. Stir over a high heat until the liquid is thickened and bubbling.
6. Add onion marmalade/chutney, Worcestershire sauce, gravy browning and bay leaves. Season, then stir as you bring back up to the boil. Cover with the lid and place in the oven for two to two-and-a-half hours.
7. To make the dumplings, measure the flour and suet into a bowl and season.
8. Gradually stir in 125-150ml of water to make a soft, sticky dough. Transfer to a floured work surface and gently knead until smooth.

9. Sprinkle flour onto baking paper, sit the dough on top and roll into a rectangle about 15x25cm. Spread the top with the horseradish sauce and scatter with the parsley. Roll the dough into a Swiss roll, working from the long side.
10. Chill in the fridge for 45 minutes and slice into eight.
11. When the meat is tender, remove from the oven and increase the temperature to 220°C/200°C fan/Gas 7. Remove the lid and arrange the dumplings, spiral side up and spaced apart, on top of the stew. Cook uncovered in the oven for 25 minutes.
12. Remove the bay leaves and serve piping hot with buttered cabbage.

INGREDIENTS

For the base: 150g digestive biscuits, 60g butter (plus extra for greasing), 1tbsp demerara sugar

For the topping:

(SERVES 6-8)

METHOD

1. You will need a 20cm round spring-form tin with deep sides, and a piping bag fitted with a plain nozzle (optional). Butter the base of the tin and line with a disc of baking paper.
2. Measure the biscuits into a resealable freezer bag and use a rolling pin to crush into fine crumbs, but still with a bit of texture.
3. Heat the butter in a pan over a low heat until just melted. Add the crushed biscuits and sugar and stir until combined. Spoon into the base of the tin and press with the back of a spoon until level. Chill in the fridge while you make the topping.
4. Break the chocolate into a separate bowl, and sit it on top of a pan of simmering water. Stir until melted but not hot, then leave for five to 10 minutes, until cool but still liquid.

5. Meanwhile, tip the mascarpone into a bowl, and mix with a spatula to loosen it. Stir in the cream and vanilla extract until smooth.
6. To make a coulis, place half the raspberries into a food processor. Add icing sugar and whizz until runny, then pour through a sieve to remove the seeds.
7. Pour the melted chocolate into the bowl with the mascarpone mixture and stir to combine. Don't over-mix.
8. Spoon half the white chocolate mixture on to the biscuit base in the tin. Use the handle of a teaspoon to make a few small holes in the white chocolate mixture, pushing right down to the top of the biscuit base.

9. Pour or pipe enough of the coulis into the holes to fill them, setting aside the remaining coulis for decorating the top of the cheesecake. Spoon the remaining white chocolate mixture on top and smooth and level the top. Cover with cling film and chill in the fridge for a minimum of six hours, or ideally overnight.
10. To serve, arrange the rest of the raspberries on top of the cheesecake and drizzle over the remaining coulis. Run a palette knife around the edges of the tin before removing the sides and base, and sit it on a serving plate.

ON STAGE: Mud Morganfield on Friday, March 24, at 8pm

BASED on the hugely popular TV comedy by Jeremy Lloyd and David Croft, follow the adventures of René, the hapless café owner in war-torn, occupied France.

Those intrepid Centre Stagers are performing the stage version of 'Allo, 'Allo until Saturday. René and his wife Edith are struggling to keep for themselves the portrait of the Madonna with the big ... smile which is kept in a sausage (very big, naturally) in the cellar. There will be lots of convincingly unconvincing French accents, some ridiculous Nazis, waitresses in black and white uniforms and maybe a few stripy T-shirts and 'good moanings'.

■ On Tuesday, March 21, at 7.30pm the arts centre has The Artist's Garden, an in-depth documentary, inspired by the Florence Griswold Museum's very popular exhibition American Impressionism and the Garden Movement. Travelling to studios, gardens and iconic locations throughout the United States, UK and France, this mesmerising film is a feast for the eyes. In 1886, the French art dealer Paul Durand-Ruel brought a selection of his huge stock of impressionist paintings to New York. American artists then flocked to the French village of Giverny, and cheered the French new wave taking to painting outdoors like linseed oil to a paintbrush.

■ Olivia is a familiar-ish story about a downtrodden Victorian orphan. This orphan however doesn't end up in the care of a loving grandfather but as a star of the stage. Along the way she meets Eliza Doolittle, Scrooge, and Sherlock Holmes as well as Fagin and Dodger. Performed by the students of Stoke College this witty show for all the family is on Wednesday, March 22, and Thursday, March 23, at 7pm.

■ My Feral Heart (Sunday, March 19) is a moving film that follows Luke. After his mother passes away, Luke, who has Down's Syndrome, is forced to move into a care home. After sneaking out of the house to explore the countryside, he meets a young woman who gives him hope and purpose.

■ Coming up the arts centre has a big blues night with Mud Morganfield, the son of the legendary Muddy Waters on Friday, March 24. Mud is the proud heir of the King of Chicago Blues and has the powerful voice and the showmanship to go with it. He has shared stages with many of his father's fellow superstars like Buddy Guy and Pinetop Perkins. If you liked Lil Jimmy Reed, Eugene Hideaway Bridges and Brooks Williams and Guy Davis at the arts centre, this should be right up your street!

■ On the horizon the arts centre also has Simply Swing (Saturday, March 25), an afternoon celebration of big band music; stand up with Joe Bor, Suzi Ruffell and Andrew Ryan at the Monkey Nuts Comedy Club (Sunday, March 26) and the Easter panto Treasure Island and the Caribbean Pirates (Friday and Saturday, April 7 and 8).

■ Thursday, March 16, 7.30pm, Friday, March 17, 7.30pm, Saturday March 18, 2.30pm and 7.30pm, 'Allo, 'Allo

■ Sunday, March 19, 4pm My Feral Heart

■ Tuesday, March 21, 2pm, Silverliners Line Dancing

■ Tuesday, March 21, 7.30pm, The Artist's Garden

■ Wednesday, March 22, 7pm, Thursday, March 23, 7pm, Stoke College, Olivia!

■ Friday, March 24, 8pm, Mud Morganfield

DUE JULY: Latest Qashqai

Geneva debut for new Nissan Qashqai

THIS is the new Nissan Qashqai crossover making its debut at the Geneva International Motor Show.

It goes on sale in Europe in July and comes with upgrades to its looks and spec with higher levels of interior quality and improved driving performance.

The new Qashqai will be available with Nissan's ProPILOT autonomous driving capability which controls steering, acceleration and braking in a single lane on highways. This will give drivers more control and greater freedom in heavy traffic and while high-speed cruising.

The car continues to be offered with traffic sign recognition, driver attention, park assist, around view monitor, blind spot warning and lane departure warning.

The new Qashqai continues as the segment leader on CO2 emission with 99g/km from the 1.5-litre dCi 110 diesel.

New Peugeot 3008 wins Euro car award

THE new Peugeot 3008 SUV has won the coveted European Car of the Year award for 2017.

The car, which went on sale in the UK only a few months ago and is priced from £20,635, took the honours in this year's awards which were announced on Monday on the eve of the Geneva Motor Show in Switzerland.

Peugeot is now the second biggest auto maker in Europe after Volkswagen following the announcement earlier on Monday that it was taking over Vauxhall and Opel operations in Europe from General Motors.

In this year's awards the 3008 was voted top from a list of six other finalists – the Alfa Romeo Giulia, the Citroën C3, Mercedes-Benz E-Class, Nissan Micra, the Toyota C-HR and Volvo's big car pairing of the V90 estate and the S90 saloon.

Hakan Matson, automobile expert from the Swedish economic magazine Dagens Industri and the president of the Car of the Year judging panel, said: "The jury recognizes that the market share of SUVs and crossover cars has been steadily increasing. The Peugeot is a worthy winner."

WINNING HAND: The new Peugeot 3008 is already a star option

Jean-Philippe Imparato, chief executive of Peugeot said: "We are so happy. It is a great moment and I am very proud to receive this prize for our Peugeot 3008."

The criteria taken into consideration for the annual awards are innovation, security, design and value for money.

The new 3008 has made a mark with its revolutionary i-Cockpit high tech interior and instrument panel being a standard feature across the 17 model line up.

Peugeot last won the award, which has been running since 1964, two years ago when the 308 hatchback was voted best in Europe.

Last year the honours went to the British-built Vauxhall Astra which has now become part of the Peugeot Citroen PSA Group.

New Fiesta to be £1,000 less

FROM £12,715: The new Ford Fiesta

THE new Ford Fiesta will cost £1,000 less than the current model when it goes on sale in the spring at £12,715.

The manufacturer is bringing back a base-model Style trim – a car that was deleted from the last generation line-up – slashing the entry model price of the UK's bestselling car, which is currently on sale in dealerships from £13,795.

At the other end of the scale, Ford will introduce a posh Vignale model to its Fiesta line-up for the first time – a model that will cost more than a Focus.

In pricing details, released ahead of the Fiesta's official debut at the Geneva motor show on Tuesday, the firm revealed the top-of-the-range Vignale will weigh in at £20,575 for a 1.5-litre TDCI. A Ford Focus with 1.0-litre EcoBoost engine costs £19,495.

The Vignale has 17-inch alloys, unique exterior body styling and front grille, leather interior, heated seats and steering wheel, panoramic roof and rearview camera as standard.

SPIRALLING: Pump prices

Fuel has now gone up £10 in last year

MOTORISTS are paying more than £10 extra for a tank of fuel than they were at this time last year, according to new figures.

At the end of February, unleaded petrol cost an average of 120.23p a litre, an increase of 18.6p on the price a year ago of 101.65p.

Meanwhile, the price of a typical litre of diesel stood at 122.25p, while a year ago it was 101.31p, almost 21p less.

There was some good news for hard-pressed drivers during February, however, with the stats revealing that fuel prices were at least stable during the month.

And looking back to December 1, 2014, unleaded cost 121.18p a litre, while diesel was 126.11p – both higher than they are today.

It now costs £66.13 to fill an average petrol-powered family car, as opposed to £55.91 a year ago. Meanwhile a driver will be forking out £67.24 to fill a typical diesel car, compared to £55.72 in March last year (assuming a 55-litre fuel tank).

Long-awaited new XC60 is Volvo's latest treat

VOLVO Cars, the premium car maker, today revealed the long-awaited new XC60 premium SUV at the Geneva Motor Show.

The new car replaces Volvo's highly-successful original XC60, which in the nine years since its launch became the bestselling premium mid-sized SUV in Europe with nearly a million units sold globally. The XC60 today represents around 30 per cent of Volvo's total global sales.

"We have a strong heritage in designing stylish and dynamic SUVs that offer the latest in technology. The new XC60 will be no exception. It's the perfect car for an active lifestyle, and it represents the next step in our transformation plan," said Hakan Samuelsson, president and chief executive, Volvo Car Group.

The new XC60, one of the safest cars ever made, is fully-loaded with new technology. Steer Assist has been added to the ground-breaking City Safety system.

A new safety system called Oncoming Lane Mitigation uses steer assist to help mitigate head-on collisions, while Volvo's Blind Spot Indication System (BLIS) now uses

THE NEW VOLVO XC60: 'Making customers feel special'

Steer Assist functionality to reduce the risk of lane-changing collisions.

"We have focused on building a car that can deliver pleasure to all of your senses – from a commanding view of the road ahead in a beautifully appointed and calm cabin, to a safe, inspired and confident ride," said Henrik Green, senior vice president product & quality at Volvo Car Group.

"We've paid particular attention to making life easier for our customers by providing them with the creature comforts and services that take the hassle out of everyday life."

The new XC60 offers Volvo's award-winning T8 Twin Engine petrol plug-in hybrid at the top of the powertrain range, delivering 407 hp and acceleration from 0-100 km in just 5.3 seconds.

"We have a wide range of powertrains. The new XC60 will launch with the diesel D4 engine at 190bhp and the D5 with PowerPulse technology delivering 235bhp. We also have the petrol-powered T5 delivering 254bhp and the T6, which with both turbo and superchargers attached, delivers 320bhp and 400 Nm of torque," added Henrik Green.

Volvo Cars' driver infotainment and connected services offer, Sensus, and the Volvo On Call app both receive a graphical update with improved usability. As in the 90 Series cars, smartphone integration with CarPlay and Android Auto is also available.

"The XC60 is an SUV not designed to look down on others but to drive. The exterior has an athletic sculpture with a subtle, timeless quality. The interior is a masterful composition of well-resolved architecture, beautiful materials and the very latest technology – all perfectly blended together. The XC60 provides a true Scandinavian experience which will make our customers feel special," said Thomas Ingenlath, senior vice president.

Volvo Cars' new XC60 is set to go into production in mid-April at the Torslanda Plant in Sweden.

CHALLENGE: Casey Phillips makes a tackle for Haverhill Borough against Woodbridge

GOAL: Charlie Holmes bundles the ball home for Haverhill Borough against Woodbridge
Pictures: Gary Brown

Two red cards prove costly for Rovers against Robins

HAVERHILL Rovers had two players sent off as they endured a disappointing 2-0 defeat at home to Ely City in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division.

Hosts Rovers had a chance cleared off the line early on but things then took a turn for the worse as Harry Halls saw red in the 24th minute for denying Kelvin Enaro a goalscoring opportunity.

From the resulting free kick, Ely almost took the lead when Jamie Alsop's effort struck the crossbar.

It remained 0-0 at half time, but in the 61st minute Rovers were reduced to nine players when Adam Sartini saw red for handling the ball on the goal-line.

Alex Theobald tucked away the resulting penalty to put the Robins 1-0 up.

Rovers continued to battle on and offered some stubborn resistance to Ely's attacking play.

But the result was sealed in the 87th minute when a mix-up between Sam Holmes and Marcus Hunt allowed Enaro to control the ball from a cross before finishing past keeper Charlie Turner to make it 2-0.

Ryan Swallow scored twice as Haverhill Borough booked their place in the Suffolk Senior Cup semi-finals with a 3-1 win at Woodbridge Town.

Boro made a flying start to the match and were 2-0 up inside 15 minutes thanks to goals from Charlie Holmes and Swallow.

Woodbridge finally got into the game and forced a good save from Boro keeper Paul Walker.

And the home side eventually reduced the deficit in the 25th minute when a header was glanced into the net from a deep cross.

Swallow was unfortunate not to restore Boro's two-goal lead when his shot was tipped over the bar just before half time, and at the start of the second half Woodbridge put the visitors under more pressure.

Boro was always a threat on the break though, and Casey Phillips hit the post with a lob before Matt Staines and Craig Pruden had efforts blocked.

The game was finally made safe in the 82nd minute when James Regan set up Swallow to fire home Boro's third goal.

Rory Bone had a chance to extend Boro's lead further when he shot over on the break, and the game ended with Walker saving from Woodbridge substitute Ryan Keeble.
